The record made by Joseph A. Suydam as Assessor for the town of Middletown is the platform upon which he can proudly stand while asking the voters of the Hundred to move him up higher. The fact that he has been re elected time after time in this town shows that his fellow citizens, those that know him best. believe him to be capable of filling the office. His experience in these past years admirably fit him for the broader field. DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET

The Democrats held their State Convention on Tuesday, and to the surprise of most people who had watched the trend of events, nominated David T. Marvel of this County for Representative in Congress. There is no question that former Judge Marvel is in many ways fitted for the position. Of course, as a Republican, we are opposed to the Judge for the principles for which he stands.

For State Treasurer, the Convention named editor Robert H. Wilson of the State News. He may be as well titted for the office of Treasurer as his associate is for Congressman. We are not personally acquainted with the editor. We do know, however, that he wields a caustic pen, and that he is the avewed exponent of Kenneyism. We know, too, that Mr. Wilson was one of the Representatives in the Legislature of 1897, who held stolen seats. Judge Marvel, who at that time

"The Board had no right to go behind the certificates of the re turns of the Judges of the elec tien. The attempt to do so was a gross usurpation of the powers vested by the Constitution and laws of the State in the Legitlature, where it relates to the elec tion of members in that body and in the Courts when it relates to the election of other officers. In these tribunals a full and exhanstive examination of all the facts and circumstances attending the election can be had under sanction of law, with all rights carefully guarded and pre-

The House had then burst of applause that followed been in session six days, but Mr. Wilson took pay for the whole the standard bearer of his session at $3 per. One of the first acts passed by the Legislature of 1897, and the record shows that it passed the Louse unanimously, was one to abolish the Board of Canyass and substitute certain County officers as the Canvassing Board. The idea was to save the results of the steal. The Court passed upon this proposition and said that 'Such a construction would em balm in judicial sanction the craft to devise the power to defeat the will of the people at the will of the Legislature. No thoughtful person can contemplate without abhorrence the possible result of such a construction. It would be political suicide; and finds no sanction either in reason or the Democratic State Convention last Tuesday THE TRANSCRIPT cannot better express its opinion than to say it hertily agrees with Every Evening, the party organ in this county. The document is a small morsel of Democratic faith surrounded by a lot of "tommy rot" about plutocracy, predatory wealth, the Powder Trust, the factory inspector &c. To get at the small kernel our Democratic friends must take the entire bitter dose of shell and all, including a folsome endorsement of Bryan. For once we can thoroughly agree with Every Evening while as thor-

"Nevertheless all signs point to at least a few verdicts against the company, and in timed it has to be forced to recognize the fact that it is as amenable to the law as smaller corporations or individuals. The movement is in the right direction and the curbing of the trusts and the restraint of corporations standing in defiance of the law is being felt to good effect. Two or three of the socalled trusts have dissolved and others are showing a disposition to fall in line. J. BURTUS GOFF

After an illness of several months J. Burtus Goff, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Goff, of Camden, N. J., died at 5 o'cloc Tuesday afternoon, aged 18 years. Deceased had been unwell for several onths, and while his family had realzed for several days the end was near, the news announcing his death to his many friends here was a great surprise. Burtus was a favorite here where he at-tended our public schools and while he was extremely weak, his wonderful couryears.

Dr. Moore feelingly responded and told of the pleasure it gave him to be back of their loved one. The remains were ought here yesterday morning on the vices at St. Frances Xavier Church, the remains were enterred in the adjoining emetery. The following young men, who
